THE REVEILLE

salutes the centennial

of the city of Hays

Design: The Corinthian pillar is designed similarly to those of Picken Hall, oldest building on the Fort Hays State campus. At its base stands a symbol of the block house which still can be found on the site of old Fort Hays. Encircling the pillar, strands of grain represent the contribution of early Russian immigrants, who helped boost the agricultural growth of Western Kansas by bringing Turkey Red wheat to the state from their native land.

Agriculture has been a source of livelihood for Hays citizens and other Kansans since early days in the state. Farming methods have changed, but the beauty of a field bearing a plentiful crop still holds the same uniqueness.

Foreword — Hays Marks Century of Progress

Set in the fertile, petroleum-rich prairies of Western Kansas, Hays today is a bustling city of more than 13,000 people. Here stand one of the world's largest dry-land experiment stations, two of the finest hospitals in Kansas and Fort Hays State, the only state college in Western Kansas.

Into the building of these accomplishments has gone a century of sweat and planning. It was 100 years ago, in 1867, that the city was founded.

But the city's heritage reaches back even further to old Fort Hays, founded first as Fort Fletcher in 1865. There such men as Buffalo Bill Cody, Gen. George Custer and his Seventh Cavalry regiment, and Wild Bill Hickok, who later became Hays' first marshall, were stationed at various times.

Today's television Westerns have glorified and made legendary the type of life which characterized the history of the fort's operation and the early years of Hays.

Buffalo herds roamed the plains, and a man's life was as good as his draw.

But gradually lawlessness disappeared, and in its place appeared the culture which is today ingrained into the life of the community. Dramatic clubs, literary societies, church groups and political parties found their way into Hays society.

In 1902 Fort Hays Normal School, forerunner of Fort Hays State, became a part of Hays' story. From meager beginnings—34 students attending classes in the old fort hospital—has grown a vigorous liberal arts college which enrolls nearly 5,000 students and employs more than 250 faculty members.

Prospects for the future promise continued progress and expansion. And so the city and its college look forward to the challenge generated by this promise—a challenge filled with broad horizons, limited only by the genius of coming generations.

Symbolic of learning, Picken Hall's pillars stand as a distinguishing mark of the college.

Oil derricks rising high into the air and brilliant sunsets add wealth and flavor to the features of Western Kansas. Rich petroleum interests have played a particularly important role in the development and economy of Hays.

Rich Heritage Distinguishes Western Kansas

Western Kansas is on the march educationally, culturally, socially and economically. Historical wagon trails, old forts, cattle towns, protected herds of buffalo, vast hunting areas, fleets of combines, plains that stretch for miles—all contribute to the distinctive heritage of the region.

Agriculture has become a way of life for the people of Western Kansas. It plays an important part in the economic well-being of the state.

With the stimulation of improved varieties of grain and other crops, farm yields have increased tremendously. Even though the government-administered allotment program has reduced acreage, the growing annual production of wheat has captured for Kansas the reputation of "The Wheat State."

Western Kansas contributes to the state's cattle market, fourth largest in the nation, and has helped place Kansas high in oil production.

Petroleum has played a significant role in the growth of Fort Hays State. In 1929 the Kansas Board of Regents authorized the leasing of state lands to drill for gas and oil. From the income received came the funds to finance the construction of the first unit of a men's residence hall on campus.

Towering elevators handle millions of bushels of Western Kansas grain. Beef production also constitutes a profitable area industry.

sons, Kansas sportsmen and many out-of-state hunters take to the fields to try their luck.

Reminiscent of the city's heritage, the guard house building of old Fort Hays remains standing. The fort being a tourist attraction, current plans call for the structure to be remodeled into a museum.

Hadley Memorial Hospital stands ready to serve Hays and vicinity. St. Anthony's Hospital also provides service.

Enterprises Spur Hays To Prosperity, Growth

With the stimulation of retailing, medical facilities, farming pursuits and the cultural contributions of the college, Hays moves ahead.

Patients from a 21-county area are referred to Hays—"The Rehabilitation Capital of Kansas." Hadley Rehabilitation Center boasts of being the first of its kind to be located in Kansas and the first in the nation to be established in a rural area.

An act in 1900 granted land to the state for the establishment of the experiment station, Fort Hays Normal School and a public park. Each year approximately 10,000 visitors tour the station, a branch of Kansas State University since 1902.

In keeping with the holiday season, downtown Hays comes to life with sparkling Christmas lights and decorations.

Fort Hays State Grows Out of Pioneer's Dream

To many, the idea of a school of higher education in Western Kansas seemed infeasible, but a few pioneers worked to fulfill the goal. Such was the dream of Martin Allen. But almost 30 years elapsed from the time when Allen first recommended the plan until the opening day of classes in 1902.

His foresight proved fruitful, for FHS has continued to grow. This year library facilities were transferred from the old building to a $1,500,000, three-level structure, which tripled space.

With enrollment expected to near 7,000 by 1970, plans have been completed for an adequate power plant, and construction on a new men's residence hall adjacent to Wiest Hall will begin soon.

Continually before collegians lies the challenge of broadening their knowledge and sharpening their capabilities.

Expansion of the college moves ahead, and the most recent sign of growth is the newly completed library building.

Top of the knee skirts, long hair, Sting Rays and the Animals distinguish present students' tastes from their predecessors'.

But the ever-broadening vistas yet ominous implications characteristic of the Atomic Age have prompted a more deep-seated difference. Despite the era's intensified demands for academic and cultural adeptness, collegians still enjoy the delighted squeal of a Homecoming Queen, the excitement of athletics or a bull session with friends.

This blending of fun with the tension of a fast-moving world provides the framework for another chapter in student life.

Even during enrollment before fee-payment time, occasional requests for money from enrollees arise.

Enrollment Jump Misses Prediction

Falling short of the projected 5,200 enrollment, 4,962 collegians poured onto campus to register in early September.

This total, however, represented an increase of 184 students over 1965 and an all-time record enrollment. Only the freshman class showed a decrease over 1965. Sophomore, junior, senior and graduate classes all recorded substantial gains.

New students were kept zipping from one place to another by the usual enrollment procedures and orientation activities.

College officials outlined rules at separate meetings for men and women. Get-acquainted sessions at residence halls familiarized students with their new homes.

Campus organizations made their pitches for new members at the activities merry-go-round, and churches sponsored suppers. The Tiger Hop and personal greetings from President and Mrs. M. C. Cunningham at their open house also helped break the ice.

Students are called into the Sheridan Coliseum arena, and enrollment procedures grind out methodically. Upperclassmen and graduate students registered on the first two days of enrollment, and freshmen enrolled on the final day.

In keeping with Fort Hays State's reputation as the friendly college, President and Mrs. M. C. Cunningham meet and welcome new students at their open house. Students also toured the president's home and received refreshments.

Even Dad shares in the activity as the process of moving in gets under way at Wiest Hall. Students checked into the five residence halls on the first day of enrollment, and the halls sponsored get-acquainted sessions the next day.

Fall Carries Variety Of Campus Activities

Balmy fall days arrived, and a variety of September and October activities occupied students.

College Appreciation Days, held for the first time, garnered $3,000 for the Fort Hays State Endowment Fund and promoted good will between the city and the college.

In elections collegians chose a Homecoming Queen from five finalists, freshman class officers, and Student Council representatives for graduate students, foreign students and residence halls.

Invited to the campus for a day of visiting with sons and daughters, parents attended special activities, toured the campus and watched Fort Hays State defeat Colorado State College in football.

At the annual Retreat, held at Camp Pecusa near Stockton, student-faculty problems were discussed.

AKL Candidate Wins 1966 Queen Honors

Sponsored by Alpha Kappa Lambda, black-haired, brown-eyed Naomi Sheets reigned as Homecoming Queen. A senior from Las Vegas, Nev., majoring in math, Miss Sheets was nominated frequently for campus queen titles before becoming Homecoming Queen.

Miss Sheets, a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, was chosen by student vote from a field of five finalists selected from 17 candidates.

Robed by Dr. Richard Burnett at the bonfire, she was crowned by President M. C. Cunningham at half-time of the FHS-Washburn football game. The student body vice-president escorted the queen to the field, and the student body president presented her with a bouquet of roses from the students.

As queen, Miss Sheets reigned over the tug of war, parade and football game. She was interviewed by KAYS studios. Her attendants were Judi Sipe, Pam Engleman, Judy Marcotte and Phyllis Weigel.

With low-hanging clouds threatening and icy winds blowing, students brave the weather to attend bonfire activities.

Bad Weather Ebbs; Homecoming Crisp, Clear

Coach Wayne McConnell maps strategy on the sidelines. The Tigers downed Washburn 7-0 in the Homecoming tilt.

Cloudy, windy weather at the bonfire threatened to destroy the festive atmosphere of Homecoming, but the occasion dawned sunny, crisp and clear.

During the longest tug of war in history, the freshman team managed to pull their sophomore opponents into Big Creek. The battle lasted 3 minutes and 52 seconds. Early in the contest the freshmen found themselves in a precarious position at the edge of the creek but held on for the victory.

After the freshman-sophomore battle, 22 bands and 21 floats paraded down Main Street past rows of spectators. Alpha Kappa Lambda's float, "Bounty-ful Victory," captured sweepstakes honors.

First place in men's competition was awarded to Sigma Phi Epsilon, and second place went to Delta Sigma Phi. Sigma Sigma Sigma and McMinder Hall won first and second places, respectively, in the women's division. Newman Club garnered first place honors in open competition.

'The Egg' Launches Little Theatre Season

With an 18-member cast playing 32 roles, "The Egg" by Felicien Marceau launched the year's Little Theatre presentations. A large production staff was pressed into operation to aid with special lighting and sound effects and with numerous costume changes.

Employing rotating props in order to present the 19 different scenes, the saucy French comedy was concerned with man's use of the double standard, particularly in regard to sexual existence.

Cast in the lead role of Emile, Ken Bauer played a young man who appeared weak and innocent at first but whose character and reasoning changed with his experiences. Perry Schwartz directed the play.

Crowds Fill Coliseum For Belafonte, Luboff

Singer Harry Belafonte and the Norman Luboff Choir highlighted fall Artists and Lectures Series presentations. Capacity crowds poured into Sheridan Coliseum to see the recording artists perform.

Belafonte entertained with ballads, calypso, popular and protest numbers. Allowing the orchestra and audience to join him in the final number, Belafonte drew a standing ovation from the crowd.

Comedian Nipsey Russell and Greek songstress Nana Mouskouri accompanied Belafonte on his tour. With comic routines and demonstrations of popular dances, Russell delighted the audience. Miss Mouskouri performed songs in English, French and Greek.

With Norman Luboff directing, the choir combined classical and popular music in their program. Instrumentalists added variety to the selections.

Shifting from light comedy to more serious moods, Harry Belafonte demonstrates the style which won him stardom.

Derryl Goes, professional percussion artist, percussion instructor at Colorado State College and a 1956 graduate of FHS, highlighted the annual Fort Hays State College Varsity Band Show.

Directed by Lyle Dille, the band presented a variety of numbers, which ranged from a Giovannini overture to Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine" and several selections by Count Basie.

Other features included music by the Jazz Ensemble and performances by a guest trumpet soloist and four student trombonists. Proceeds from the program went to the college scholarship fund.

About 100 Participate In Rush Week Events

Attending a series of teas and preferential parties, women interested in sorority life took part in Rush Week activities. Membership invitations to prospective pledges climaxed the week.

Approximately 100 women signed intention forms to participate in rush. Rushees were required to have a minimum grade average of 1.0, attend each sorority tea and observe quiet time during designated hours on the day before sororities sent bids.

With a maximum quota of 55 members, each sorority had only the number of rushees which it needed to bring its chapter to full membership.

Snowball Introduced By Women's Group

Sponsored by Associated Women Students, the first Snowball dance on campus featured a Winter Wonderland theme. The semi-formal affair provided an all-campus dance during the Christmas season. Music for the event was presented by the Showmen.

Students attending the ball chose royalty from candidates sponsored by residence halls, sororities and fraternities. Janet Barnett won the Snowball Queen title, and Jack Johnson was Snowball King. Miss Barnett was nominated by Delta Sigma Phi, and Johnson was the McMIndes Hall candidate.

Narrating the action of the play, Doug Teel relates to the audience the movement and messages involved in the story of Antigone.

'Antigone' Second On Play Agenda

Second on the list of scheduled Little Theatre productions was "Antigone," a contemporary version of a Greek myth. The play depicted the attempts of the young girl Antigone to bury her dead brother even though she faced death for doing so.

Though the drama came under the classification of tragedy, it had touches of humor. Perry Schwartz directed the play.

Special Events Herald Christmas Traditions

With the arrival of the holiday season, a variety of activities heralded Christmas traditions.

Faculty and students attended the annual Madrigal Dinner, which depicted 16th-century England. Both floors of Memorial Union were utilized for the banquet and the evening's entertainment.

Christmas Vespers, presented by the Collegian Chorale and the Glee Clubs, featured a Bach cantata and a number composed by a faculty member.

On Memorial Union Christmas Day, faculty members served free coffee to students. President and Mrs. Cunningham received the customary Christmas tree bearing cards from campus organizations.

To the sound of trumpets, the lord and lady of the manor, Mr. and Mrs. Erik Reeves, arrive to greet their guests at the annual Madrigal Dinner.

entertainment in the 16th-century tradition added early English flavor to the atmosphere at the banquet.

As final exams near, more and more students appear in Forsyth Library to finish projects and review for tests.

Tests Bring Tension; Enrollment Revised

Six days of final examinations brought the customary anxiety, tension, exhaustion and relief. Then came a blissful, study-free semester break.

Most students left the campus to pursue a variety of ventures—relaxing at home, skiing in Colorado, visiting friends. Some, however, remained on campus to earn some extra money, meet a Reveille deadline or enjoy the offerings of the city of Hays.

Spring enrollment was conducted under a new procedure. Students classified as seniors during the fall semester were allowed to enroll first.

Capping a semester of study and preparation, collegians brave the nerve-racking atmosphere of final examinations.

Ending the tradition of the Reveille Ball, the yearbook staff revealed the Reveille Queen at halftime of the final basketball game.

New Method Decides 1967 Reville Queen

Chosen by a new procedure, Nancy Ann Ward, sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi, reigned as Reville Queen. Active in campus organizations, Miss Ward was Alpha Lambda Delta president, Panhellenic Council treasurer and a member of All-Student Council. She was also a member of Sigma Kappa sorority and served on the executive council of Nurses' Club.

An A-minus student, Miss Ward was Best-Dressed Girl on Campus for 1965-66. As talents, she listed singing, dancing and interpretive reading.

Naming five finalists, a five-member faculty panel interviewed 15 original candidates. The panel chose the finalists on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, activities, honors, talents and academic standing. The United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., selected the queen from photographs on the basis of beauty alone.

Formerly, selection of the Reville Queen had been done entirely from photographs by a well-known personality. The queen was announced at halftime of the final basketball game of the season.

Drawing both applause and heckling, George Rockwell presents his views to the campus audience. Much controversy in area newspapers and on campus preceded the speech by the self-proclaimed leader of the American Nazi Party.

Before speaking on campus, Nazi leader George Rockwell is interviewed by area newsmen at a press conference.

Reasoner, Pianists, Rockwell Appear in Spring

Performing on twin pianos, Ferrante and Teicher entertain with numbers from their seven gold-award albums.

Highlighting personalities appearing on campus in the spring semester, newsman Harry Reasoner, duopianists Ferrante and Teicher, and controversial George Lincoln Rockwell drew large crowds.

As featured speaker for the annual Wooster Fund Dinner, Reasoner presented views on "Citizenship, Cynicism and Computers." The roving correspondent for CBS news also addressed an assembly on the meaning of the 1966 national elections.

Billed as America's leading two-piano team, Ferrante and Teicher performed before a full house in Sheridan Coliseum. They played numbers from their albums and entertained with comic routines.

Despite protests from students and area organizations, All-Student Council brought Rockwell, self-appointed leader of the American Nazi Party, to campus. Received with resignation, Rockwell was allowed to present his views to interested persons.

Campaign banners supporting the Chipman-Baxter ticket urge students to vote. More than 1,000 collegians voted.

Top Election Contests Won by Independents

Drawing nearly twice as many votes as his Democratic-Justice opponent, independent candidate Clark Chipman swept to victory in the race for the student body presidency. Randy Baxter, Chipman's running mate for vice-president, garnered the most votes given any candidate to gain a victory.

Advocating "the removal of paternalism and provincialism from FHS," the two men expressed concern with what they believed to be student apathy and advocated removing, or at least revising, regulations on housing codes. They also expressed opposition to the existence of the college dress code.

Greeks Nab Spotlight During Week of Fun

Climaxing annual Greek Week activities, sororities and fraternities met in the park for a noon luncheon, an afternoon of games and an all-Greek dance. Points were awarded to winners of the various contests, and the high-point team received a trophy.

During the week women from the four campus sororities planned displays for downtown store windows. Displays of blazers, trophies and Greek symbols were arranged. Beginning with a dress-up day for all Greeks, the week inspired fun, fellowship and friendly competition with a variety of individual activities.

Furlough Queen Reigns Over Numerous Events

Crowned at halftime of the intrasquad football game, Janet Thurlow reigned as queen during the Fort Hays Furlough. In the football contest, the White squad defeated the Black team 14-0.

For the third time in four years, Women's Recreation Assn. won the women's 10-mile bicycle race with a time of 39:45.2. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes took top honors in the men's 20-mile race, covering the course in 1:05:26.

Volunteering to work, faculty members were put up for bids at a slave auction. Held concurrently with the slave auction, an auto smash allowed participants to take a swing at an old automobile. A booth carnival in Sheridan Coliseum closed activities.

Money garnered by the events at the affair were presented to the Furlough Committee, which determined in what areas it was to be utilized.

After her coronation, Furlough Queen Janet Thurlow is escorted to her car to reign over the intrasquad game.

In a special event, FHS men compete to catch and saddle a steer and to ride the animal into a designated area.

Rain Dampens Rodeo, But Not FHS Spirits

Cool, rainy weather dampened the second annual Fort Hays State Intercollegiate Rodeo, but the spirits of Rodeo Club remained unaffected as FHS took top honors in the two-night affair. With the aid of four first places, the Fort Hays State cowboys and cowgirls defeated six other clubs from colleges and universities located in Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

FHS riders won honors for all-around cowboy and a tie for the women's all-around title. The Rodeo Queen was announced on the first night.

Held at the new arena on the college farm, the rodeo included numerous events. Men competed in calf roping, steer wrestling and in saddle bronc, bareback and bull riding. Women competitors participated in goat tying and in barrel and ribbon racing.

Selected from a field of five candidates by a panel of persons from the city, Sondra Hutchins is Rodeo Queen.

Range of Entertainment Closes Theatre Season

Production of an opera, a Tennessee Williams drama and two one-act plays wound up Little Theatre activities. Gian Carlo Menotti's comic opera "Amelia Goes to the Ball" was a cooperative effort of both Little Theatre and the music division.

Williams' play "Orpheus Descending" dealt with man's search for freedom in a decaying society which devours the individual who attempts to be free. Man's failure to communicate was examined by both the one-act plays—Edward Albee's "The Zoo Story" and Eugene Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano."

Although he is an innocent victim of circumstance, Amelia's lover is arrested for the murder of her husband.

With Deborah Bryant, Miss America 1966, serving as mistress of ceremonies, Judy Anderson, Fort Hays State senior, captured the title of Miss Hays for 1967. Miss Anderson won the title over 10 other candidates. Performing a modern dance routine, Miss Anderson scored in talent competition. She also snared first place in the swimsuit division.

As Miss Hays, Miss Anderson won the right to represent the city in the Miss Kansas pageant in Pratt and to make appearances at the Hays centennial celebration and at area pageants. Her awards included a $250 scholarship and a $100 wardrobe.

Weather Conditions Drive Commencement Inside

Ominous weather conditions forced Commencement exercises to be held in Sheridan Coliseum rather than in Lewis Field Stadium. Prior to Commencement, the 585 degree candidates were fitted for caps and gowns, put through a rehearsal, congratulated by President M. C. Cunningham and members of the faculty at a reception, and treated to a luncheon.

Dr. Orlo Choguill spoke at Baccalaureate, and Kansas Gov. Robert Docking delivered the Commencement address. Nineteen seniors graduated with distinction. Alumni Achievement Award recipients were Glenn C. Archer, retired International Harvester Co. executive, and Dr. Maurice Faulkner, professor of music at the University of California.

Kansas Gov. Robert Docking urges graduates "to participate in life with the weapons of courage and truth."

Happiness is the anticipation of a diploma for the 585 degree candidates. The 19 seniors graduated with distinction were selected from those students who compiled at least a 2.6 grade average for four years of college.

Academics

When Jennie A. Ward enrolled as the first student at Fort Hays Normal School in 1902, little did she realize that the institution was destined to establish itself as one of the leading Kansas colleges.

Through the years FHS scholars have won such top awards as Woodrow Wilson and Phi Kappa Phi Fellowships. Faculty members, too, have distinguished themselves.

In its statement of objectives, the college pledges to pursue the scholastic challenge "to provide the opportunities for students to prepare themselves for constructive and responsible living in a democratic society."

Signs for College Appreciation Days prompt President and Mrs. Cunningham to show that they are Fort Hays Staters.

Enjoying a lighthearted moment at the annual faculty dinner, the Cunninghams react to a joke from the speaker.

President Lends Help To Promotional Affair

Pledging full cooperation with city personnel, President M. C. Cunningham and Fort Hays State officials backed College Appreciation Days.

Held for the first time, the project represented an attempt to promote better understanding between Hays businessmen and the college. Donations by merchants netted nearly $3,000 for the Endowment Assn.'s scholarship, loan and awards program.

In his 18th year as head of FHS, Dr. Cunningham saw construction completed on the new library.

Strolling across the grounds of the college which he has headed for 18 years, Dr. M. C. Cunningham surveys the campus. Since he came to Fort Hays State in 1949, enrollment has skyrocketed from about 1,000 to nearly 5,000.

Assoc. Dean of Students for Women

New Position Created In Administrative Staff

Dr. Bill Jellison, dean of men since 1960, moved into the newly created position of dean of students. Hired to fill the position of associate dean of students for men, Michael Stewart joined the administration. Miss Jean Stouffer received the new title of associate dean of students for women.

Administrative re-organization placed housing, counseling, health service and Memorial Union activities under the direction of Dr. Jellison.

After devoting 30 years as director of field services, Hugh Burnett died in December, 1966.

With a new wing planned, Memorial Union is dedicated to former students who died in defense of their country.

Board of Regents Says Okay to Wiest Addition

With the unit tentatively scheduled for completion in 1968, the Kansas Board of Regents gave approval to sell revenue bonds to finance the first of two seven-story additions to Wiest Hall. The board also requested $350,000 from the state legislature for the remodeling of the old library building.

Influenced by a marked drop in enrollments below the projected count, the board whittled funds from the educational and general operating budget requests of five of the six state colleges and universities. FHS was among those receiving budget cuts.

Newly elected, Gov. Robert Docking recommended faculty pay raises and a 10 per cent boost in 1968 budgets of state colleges and universities.

Gov. Robert Docking is the first Democrat ever to defeat an incumbent Republican for the Kansas governorship.

Fire Destroys Annex; Art Treasures Burn

Fire took its toll in the applied arts division. Flames consumed the art annex, destroying equipment and art work of students and faculty. Also in art, two FHS instructors placed works in the Ambassadors Show, which travels to foreign embassies.

Expansion of the electronics area was the main innovation in the field of industrial arts. A full-time instructor was employed for students working in that area of study. New industrial arts equipment, worth more than $5,000, was purchased.

Effort Made to Update Agriculture Program

Plans for the modernization of the curriculum in agriculture concerned faculty members teaching in that area. Efforts were made to establish closer liaison with Kansas State University.

Grants from the National Science Foundation and the Bureau of Reclamation were awarded to the division. Several biological science instructors published articles in various periodicals.

Among the physical improvements introduced to facilities in Albertson Hall were a new growth chamber and an artificial population sampler.

Upon final Senate approval in the fall, a full curriculum in the area of marketing was adopted in the economics and business division. With the adoption of the new program, students gained the opportunity to earn a bachelor's degree in economics and business with emphasis in marketing.

Large classes in elementary accounting made it necessary to depend more on graduate assistants and to increase use of visual equipment. A course dealing with economic development of underdeveloped countries was among those added to the expanding curricula encompassed by the division.

Language, Literature, Speech Revision of English Courses Alters Requirements

Revision of composition courses was a major innovation in the division of language, literature and speech. Expository Writing 51, to be taken in the junior year, replaced Composition 2 as a requirement. Emphasis was placed on drama in the area of speech. Four productions were staged, and vocalists combined talents with dramatists to present the comic opera

"Amelia Goes to the Ball." The journalism department added a new laboratory for students.

Dr. Clifford D. Edwards earned a grant from the Fort Hays Committee for Instructional Research. The highest honor in the Kansas speech correction program went to Dr. Geneva Herndon. Members of the faculty gave a series of lectures on novels.

Library Science

New Library Finished; Transfer Made in May

Library facilities at Fort Hays State were greatly improved with the completion of and move to the new $1,500,000 Forsyth Library. Plans for remodeling the old library building, located just across the street from the new structure, called for administrative offices to be centered there.

Containing three floors, the new building tripled the amount of space available in previous facilities. The new library featured the adoption of an open-stack plan as opposed to the closed-stack method which had been employed previously.

Originally scheduled for January, the moving process was postponed until May because of a delay in the delivery of library furnishings.

Professor Wins Grant For Study in Scotland

New to the music division this year, Dr. Janet Tupper was awarded a fellowship for post-doctoral study and research in Edinburgh, Scotland, under the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Four new additions to the music faculty helped meet teaching requirements. Extensive audio equipment for tape recording and record playing were acquired. Curricular improvements included greater emphasis on the study of music composition.

Recital activity was especially noticeable. Music programs occurred on the calendar almost every week. Faculty members presented six recitals. In cooperation with students studying in the fields of speech and drama, vocal students participated in the comic opera "Amelia Goes to the Ball."

Physical Science AID Program Selects Two FHS Professors

Two professors in the division of physical sciences were selected as consultants to teach in the United States AID program in India.

New options added to basic science requirements included Basic Chemistry 5 and Basic Physics 10. Additional mathematics courses expanded computer offerings. The division received two grants of $2,000 each from the National Science Foundation and one of $750 from the Kansas Heart Assn.

Students aided faculty members with such analytical, electrochemical and petroleum research work as the separation and identification of plant material, the determination of the rate of organic reactions and the Kansas Heart Fund project.

One of two FHS professors named to teach in India, Dr. Harold S. Choguill guides the physical science division.

Large Sections Begun In Modern Civilization

Following the pattern for required courses set by other divisions on campus, Modern Civilization 4 classes were revamped into large sections.

Several courses were added to the social science curriculum. One instructor was added to the history faculty, and two sociology instructors assumed duties in the fall. With the assistance of federal funds, the social science division was able to finance additional visual aids and office equipment.

ful completion of the 24 credit hours in the program substitutes for the regular basic studies requirement.

Honors Program

Participants Perform Independent Research

Taking courses in the humanities and in the natural and social sciences, students of outstanding intellectual ability participated in the honors program. Professors from the various academic divisions were selected by the Honors Board to teach in the program. Library books and records relating to topics of study, a tape recorder and a record player were purchased to meet academic needs of participants.

With an invitation to join the program representing one of the highest honors the college bestows, honor students conducted several independent research projects. One paper on teen-age folklore written by a student enrolled in an honors seminar was selected for publication in Western Folklore.

With the instructor guiding the discussion, students consider challenging ideas in a seminar dealing with art.

Performing double duties, Dr. Verna Parish, professor of English, coordinates the phases of the honors program.

Sports

FHS athletic history began humbly in 1902 with a women's basketball team and a men's football squad. Track and field gained momentum in the 1920's. An early attempt to launch baseball was abandoned, but in 1966 athletes again hit the diamond.

In 1928 FHS joined the Central Intercollegiate Conference. Twelve years later the college claimed its first basketball title. FHS athletic honors include two national cross country crowns. With the college's entrance into the expanded Rocky Mountain Conference, scheduled to become operational in 1969, growth continues.

Evading Colorado State College defenders, Charley Adams nabs a pass for extra yardage. FHS downed CSC 34-0.

Football Team Surges To Tie for CIC Title

Snaring a tie for the Central Intercollegiate Conference championship, the Fort Hays State football squad, coached by Wayne McConnell, moved to a 7-2-0 season. The record included a 3-1 conference mark, good for a share of the crown with Pittsburg State. The season was the best for the Bengals since 1954, when they also shared the title.

Seven team records and 15 individual marks were established or equalled. Bob Johnson, Tiger quarterback, set or tied a total of 13 records.

After losing its first encounter of the season, Fort Hays State roared back to defeat its next six opponents. A disappointing 21-12 loss at the hands of Pittsburg State followed, but the Bengals bounced back to cool Omaha University in the final game and insure the tie for the championship.

Tigers Drop Opener, Recover to Win Two

Fort Hays State opened the football campaign by hosting Southwestern Oklahoma State College. The Oklahoma team's grinding ground game coupled with the ineffectiveness of the Tiger offense helped boost the Bulldogs to a narrow 13-7 victory.

Traveling to Kearney, Neb., the Tigers bounced back from their first defeat to crush the Kearney State Antelopes 20-0. The victory evened the season record at one victory and one defeat.

Teamwork combined with solid offense and defense added up for a smashing 34-0 victory over the Bears of Colorado State College. In gaining what Coach Wayne McConnell termed "a great victory," the Bengals brought their over-all record to 2-1.

In an effort to break up a pass play by Southwestern Oklahoma State, Terry Shane moves in on a Bulldog end. Unable to move well against the squad from Oklahoma, Fort Hays State lost its first game to the Bulldogs 13-7.

Fraternity men and the Tiger mascot are on hand to generate excitement in a capacity crowd on Homecoming Day.

Three More Wins Run Victory String to Five

Rolling over the Bearcats of Northwest Missouri State College 29-7, the Tigers chalked up their third straight win. The Tiger offense compiled its best yardage for one game, and the defense held the opponent to the season low in total offense.

On Homecoming Day the Bengals proved no disappointment as they nabbed their fourth win in a row, a 7-0 conquest of Washburn University.

Recording their longest winning streak in one season since 1948, the Bengals gained a 27-13 victory over the Emporia State Hornets.

Looking for a receiver, Bob Johnson pulls away from a Washburn tackler while Charley Myers comes to his aid.

Getting the kick away, Tiger punter Larry Ollek boots the ball in the tight Homecoming tilt with Washburn.

Coach Wayne McConnell has led his teams to records of 6-3 and 7-2 in his past two seasons at Fort Hays State.

Two Pittsburg State players team to stop Bob Johnson, FHS quarterback. The Gorillas nipped the Tigers 21-12.

TD Record Established In Contest With SCS

Quarterback Bob Johnson established a new FHS record by scoring five touchdowns as the Tigers downed Southern Colorado State 38-21 at Pueblo. The victory moved the Bengals' over-all mark to 6-1 on the year with a six-game winning streak.

Pittsburg State handed FHS its first CIC defeat by downing the Tigers 21-12 at Lewis Field Stadium. The defeat shattered the Bengals' hopes for their first undisputed CIC crown since 1948.

Closing out the 1966 football season, the Tigers traveled to Omaha to do battle with the Omaha University Indians. Held to a meager 76 yards offense in the first half, the Bengals roared back for 186 yards and three touchdowns to scalp the Indians 19-0 and cinch a tie for the CIC championship.

In the game which matched the CIC co-champions, three Gorillas try to halt Rich Dreiling after he has cracked through the Pittsburg State line.

Taking a breather on the bench, a Fort Hays State player watches the action of the game intently while refreshing himself with a drink of water.

CIC Crown Is Third In Row for Harriers

Copping the third straight CIC crown for FHS highlighted the cross country season for the Tigers. Fielding what he termed a "young, inexperienced squad," Coach Alex Francis also guided his team to 10th place in NAIA competition at Omaha.

One veteran runner carried the Bengal colors. John Mason led FHS to several dual and meet wins. Called by Francis "the greatest, most inspirational runner ever to participate at FHS," Mason was named NAIA All-American for the second time.

Most notable of Mason's performances was a 19:59.4 four-mile clocking at the NAIA championships, which stood as a new FHS mark and was the second fastest time ever for the Omaha course. The distance ace also smashed the old FHS three-mile mark with a 14:05 showing at Kearney (Neb.) State.

3-5 CIC Mark Gains Cagers Tie for Third

With an over-all 8-13 record and a 3-5 CIC mark, the basketball squad tied for third in the conference. At the outset, Coach Chuck Brehm tagged his team as "young and inexperienced." Only three lettermen returned to bolster Tiger hopes. Five freshmen saw considerable varsity action.

At one time or another, cage teams faced by the Bengals rated at the top of the NAIA or small-college NCAA charts. Lincoln University, Southwestern Oklahoma State College and St. Benedict's College, eventual NAIA champ, headed the list of powerhouses encountered by the Fort Hays State team.

Top Tiger performers included Fred Andregg and Alan Billinger. Andregg was the leading scorer through 21 games, and Coach Brehm termed Billinger "the best defensive player on the squad." A three-year letterman, Billinger, who won the Ashleman-Walters award for the Most Inspirational Player, was the only graduating senior on the team.

Bengal Cagers Go 3-4 in First Seven Contests

Tiger cagers traveled to Weatherford, Okla., to open the season against Southwestern Oklahoma State College. SWO held off a Tiger rally for the win. Southwestern College of Winfield was next on the schedule, and the visiting Moundbuilders became the first victim of Coach Chuck Brehm's Bengals.

Sporting a 1-1 mark, FHS rallied its troops for the invasion of Southern Colorado State College. Tall and fast, SCS slipped by the Tigers. Kearney (Neb.) State College provided the opposition for the Bengals in the fourth game. Solid offense and defense helped FHS down the Antelopes.

Carrying a 2-2 record, FHS journeyed to Pueblo, Colo., for a rematch with Southern Colorado State. The Tigers led until the final minutes, then bowed. Chadron (Neb.) State invaded Sheridan Coliseum with a perfect record. That, however, came to an end as a Tiger sank two free throws with one second left to give FHS a narrow two-point win.

Now 3-3 on the year, the Bengals faced Omaha University. Using a fast break and full-court press, the Indians sent the Tigers to defeat.

St. Benedict's Darryl Jones, NAIA All-American, maneuvers around four Fort Hays State defenders to score two in the Ravens' 78-67 win in Sheridan Coliseum. St. Benedict's later copped the NAIA basketball championship.

Fort Hays State Nips Bulldogs' Win Streak

Breaking the Bulldogs' eight-game winning streak, the Tigers closed out the old year by defeating Southwestern Oklahoma State College. Lincoln (Mo.) University then cruised to a win over FHS. Conference action became the order in January when Pittsburg State battled the Tigers. FHS went to the wire before eking out a two-point victory.

Now 5-5 on the year, the Bengals made their fourth straight home appearance against St. Mary's of the Plains. The invaders nipped the Tigers by one point. Next on the list of opponents were the veteran St. Benedict's Ravens. St. Benedict's blew the contest open during the second half.

Returning to CIC play, FHS faced Washburn University in a state-wide televised game. Fielding one of their best teams, the Ichabods took advantage of Tiger fouls and poor shooting to cop the decision. Coach Chuck Brehm's Bengals picked up their sixth win by downing Kearney (Neb.) State.

As tension mounts in a Tiger cage encounter, freshman forward Frank Lovitch gives his bubble gum a workout.

Alan Billinger, second team All-CIC choice, receives the Most Inspirational Player award at the final game.

Stopped by a Washburn player, Charlie Griffie looks for aid. Clinching a title tie, Washburn dumped FHS 75-61.

Top Tiger scorer Fred Andregg, named to the All-CIC first team, goes up for two against Washburn University.

Brief Title Aspirations Vanish as FHS Loses

Arch rival Emporia State felt the Tiger bite as FHS beat the Hornets by four. Next stop on the basketball tour was at Lincoln (Mo.) University, where the hosts posted a lopsided win. FHS moved into the thick of the CIC race by nipping league-leading Omaha University. At Emporia State, however, the Tigers ran smack into a pack of red-hot Hornets and came out on the short end of the final score.

Trouble came again at Pittsburg State as the Gorillas broke a 14-game losing streak. With all hopes of even a share of the CIC crown shattered, the Tigers returned home to meet Washburn University. The Ichabods clinched at least a tie for the CIC title by posting another win over FHS.

In their final outing, the Bengals hosted St. Benedict's. Ranked third in the NAIA, the Ravens had little trouble beating the Tigers.

Junior Varsity Posts 5-3 Over-All Record

Compiling a 5-3 season record, the junior-varsity basketball squad was coached by Les Ramsdell. The young Tigers defeated Kearney State's jayvees twice, Colby Juco, Concordia Juco and Washburn's jayvees. Losses came at the hands of Colby, Concordia and Washburn. Resulting in a 1-0 score, the win over Washburn came by way of a forfeiture. At the end of regulation time, the score was knotted at 88-88, and Washburn chose not to play an overtime.

Tiger Gymnasts Surge To 5-3 Season Mark

Under the direction of Coach Ed McNeil, the gymnastics squad posted a 5-3 season. In the first outing, the Tigers entertained Nebraska University and Central Missouri State College. The Husker squad tallied a score of 162.60 to the Tigers' 159.95 and Central Missouri State's 133.50.

FHS moved its season mark to 2-1 with a 161.90-156.60 win over Wichita State University. Journeying to Warrensburg, Mo., the Tigers garnered their third win. Central Missouri State fell 139.80-126.20 as Bengal gymnasts won five events.

McNeil's squad won every event to cop a 153.50-117.85 decision from Northwestern Oklahoma State. Carrying a 4-1 dual-meet record, FHS traveled to Wichita for a rematch. The Shockers gained revenge for the earlier loss, posting a 161.20-155.80 win.

Failing to gain a single first place against Colorado State College, the Bengals dropped a 179.15-163.60 decision. Finishing against Northwestern Oklahoma State, FHS took a convincing 151.16-101.78 victory. Gymnasts closed out action at the annual NAIA championships at Natchitoches, La.

After completing his routine on the high bar, Bob Fussell dismounts. Fussell was second in scoring for FHS.

Working to perfect his style, Warren Teasley ends his routine by performing a handstand on the still rings.

Injury-Ridden Matmen Compile 6-8 Record

Wracked with injury, the wrestling squad compiled a 6-8 record. FHS grapplers placed fourth in the Northwest Missouri State meet and second in the Missouri Valley AAU. The Tigers got off to a good start with a win over Emporia State. Then disaster struck as State College of Iowa, Wisconsin University, Bimidji (Minn.) State College and Southern Illinois University all recorded victories over the Tigers.

Offering advice, Coach Dave Winter barks out instructions from the sidelines during the meet with E-State.

Injuries began cropping up at that point, and the problem was persistent. The Bengals lost to Central Missouri State and bowed to Adams (Colo.) State College. Rebounding, FHS beat Fort Lewis (Colo.) College and Central Missouri State.

Nebraska University came to town and dumped the Tigers. Then Kearney (Neb.) State pulled an upset by beating the Bengals. Meeting for the unofficial CIC title, Omaha University and FHS battled, with FHS eking out a one-point win. Closing out action, the Tigers dropped Fort Lewis College and gained revenge by rolling over Kearney State.

Golfers' 14-3 Mark Is One of Best for FHS

Tiger linksters ended the season with a 14-3 dual meet mark, one of the best in the history of golf at FHS. In his first year as golf coach, Dr. Al Hollister coached the Tigers to the District 10 NAIA title. The loss of two key players near the end of the season hurt the Bengals' chances for the CIC title. FHS was second in the event. Leading the surge, Dennis Close, three-year letterman, played the number-one spot for the Tigers throughout the season.

Dropping Wichita State University at Hays, the Bengals opened the season on an impressive note. A week later, the Tigers dropped matches to Wichita and Pittsburg State but gained wins over Emporia State and two other Wichita State squads.

Hollister's linksters then went on a nine-match winning streak. Victims of the Tiger bite included Kearney (Neb.) State, Bethany College, Kansas Wesleyan University, Emporia State, Ottawa University, Washburn University and Baker University. Washburn University finally broke the streak as the Tigers dropped their final regular-season match.

Net Mark Falls Short Of Early Expectations

Bolstered by the return of five lettermen, the tennis squad looked like a CIC title contender at the season's outset. However, things failed to turn out that way as FHS placed fourth in the conference and compiled a 4-6 dual-meet record.

Victories were recorded over Kearney (Neb.) State, Emporia State and Bethany College. Losses came at the hands of Emporia State, Wichita State University, Bethany, Northwestern Oklahoma State College and Washburn University. In the CIC meet, the Tigers copped only one singles match in six outings and failed to win a doubles match.

Athletic Director Cade Suran guided the team. Don Hockett posted the best over-all mark.

Shot, Distance Marks Set as Thinclads Shine

Under the direction of veteran mentor Alex Francis, Fort Hays State's track and field squad finished second in the CIC, won one of three duals and made good showings in eight major meets.

John Mason and Bernie Blevins led the Tiger charge throughout the year. Mason established two school marks of significance when he cruised the mile in 4:04.6 and the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:09.4. Blevins put his name in the books in both the shot put and discus, tossing the 16-pound ball 45-6½ and heaving the steel plate 159-5.

FHS copped fourth in the NAIA Meet. Mason was first in the mile and 3,000-meter steeplechase, and third in the three-mile. Blevins won third in the shot. Both were NAIA All-Americans.

Tigers Earn Honors In Big-Name Meets

Placing fifth, the thinclads began the season at the NAIA Indoor at Kansas City. Tiger trackmen won first in the mile and third in the shot.

An indoor dual at Kearney (Neb.) State was next on the agenda, and for one of but a few times, the Antelopes defeated the Bengals.

Next the Tigers traveled to Omaha University, where they copped a triangular win. FHS participated in the Kansas State University Indoor, and John Mason was clocked in 4:06.9 in the mile. Other Tiger firsts came in the sprint medley relay and in the freshman high jump. Then it was on to the Texas Relays, where Mason ran his 4:04.6 mile.

Kearney State hosted the Tigers in a return dual engagement and took a narrow one-point victory. At the Emporia State Relays, Bengals won the mile, the steeplechase and the sprint medley relay. The Kansas University Relays found Mason finishing second in the steeplechase. One week later, Mason won the mile run at the Drake Relays, and FHS thinclads claimed firsts in freshman high jump and javelin events at the Colorado Relays, held in Boulder.

Traveling to Wichita State University, FHS came home with a dual-meet win. In defense of their CIC crown, the Bengals journeyed to Omaha. Five firsts and a host of seconds and thirds were not enough as FHS finished second to Emporia State.

Getting set, Bernie Blevins prepares to heave the shot. A track record-holder, Blevins also played football.

New Baseball Mentor Faces Hitting Problem

Compiling a 10-12 season record, the baseball squad tied for third in the CIC tournament. Earl Hobbs served his first year as baseball coach. Fielding a team for only the second time in some 40 years, the Tigers improved on last season's 7-12 record. Lack of consistent hitting was the major problem faced by the Bengals. As a team, FHS batted .230 as compared to the opposition's .234.

Notable marks established by the Tiger squad included 103 runs to the opponents' 85 and 145 hits to 143 for the opposition. The team also scored a total of 17 doubles, 5 triples, 4 home runs, 99 bases on balls and 75 runs batted in. Members of the pitching crew compiled an earned-run average of 3.84 to the opposition's 4.46. As a team, the Tigers fielded .941 to their opponents' .922.

On the individual charts, Louis Brungardt led in hitting with a .328 average, in RBI's with 12, in total bases with 29, in hits with 22 and in at-bats with 67. Brungardt and Roy Ralstin tied for runs-scored honors with 15 each. Ralstin stole the most bases—12. John Mastin led in doubles with five. Jim Dreiling drew the most walks—18.

Leading the pitching staff, Dennis Blankenship hurled 40 2/3 innings, gave up 35 hits, walked 14, struck out 23 and compiled a 1.99 ERA. Dennis Wells fanned 17 to win the strikeout title.

So-So Year Includes Low Tourney Finish

Kansas Wesleyan University furnished the opposition for the Tigers' season opener, and the Bengals and Coyotes split a twin bill. In their first home game, the Tigers hosted the Emporia State Hornets, and the visitors promptly added two more wins to their record at the expense of FHS.

Bouncing back, the Tigers grabbed a pair of twin-bill victories from Hastings (Neb.) College and McPherson College. Then Hobbs' team traveled to Hastings for a return engagement and split a pair. From there, it was on to Washburn University and Emporia State, where FHS lost two games to the Ichabods and split a pair with the Hornets.

Kearney (Neb.) State was next on the list, and the two squads split a doubleheader. Against Washburn University, the Tigers took the first game, but the Ichabods got revenge in the second.

Drawing Washburn in the CIC tourney, FHS fell victim to the Ichabods' big bats. In the loser's bracket, FHS pushed Emporia State 14 innings before dropping the decision. Closing out action, the Bengals split a pair with Kearney State.

Fort Hays State Snares First All-Sports Crown

Awarded this year for the first time, the annual sweepstakes trophy—given to the CIC member posting the best finishes over-all in conference sports—went to Fort Hays State. Tiger teams copped the trophy by nabbing first place in cross country, tying for first in football, gaining second in both golf and track, sharing third in basketball, garnering fourth in tennis and sharing third in baseball.

Athletic Director Cade Suran displays the first annual sweepstakes trophy, won by Fort Hays State athletes.

Work, Fun Combined In Women's Athletics

Combining the seriousness of classroom work with the enjoyment of recreation, a broad program of activities was offered in women's physical education and in its related organizations.

Sponsoring a series of Play Days for high school students provided practical experience for future teachers and encouraged sportsmanship at both the collegiate and secondary levels.

Fencing, archery, bowling, golf, swimming, tennis and dancing permitted students to select activity to suit their liking and provided a well-rounded program for women's intramural competition.

Groups

Paralleling the growth of Fort Hays State, campus groups have encompassed college housing units, Greek social fraternities and sororities, academic and service organizations, and a wide variety of others.

Oldest of the host of campus groups, the State College Leader, student newspaper, was founded in 1906. The names of such organized groups as Seventh Cavalry and Custer Hall reflect the college's heritage.

In group participation lies the challenge to learn to manage one's time wisely, to increase one's versatility, to mature socially and to grow intellectually.

Placing their bets, collegians try their luck at the Memorial Union Casino Party. Introduced this year by the Program

Council, the project offered prizes to participants, who purchased play money with which to gamble.

Program Council Ups Number of Committees

Expanding from three committees to nine, Memorial Union Program Council, a student service organization, coordinated Union activities. Program Council sponsored a Casino Party, a French gourmet dinner, two Tiger Hops, the Sweetheart Ball and aided with preparations for the annual Madrigal Dinner.

Members attended the regional conference of the Assn. of College Unions and the national conference in Philadelphia. Tom Baxter served as chairman, and O. Z. Bizzell sponsored the council.

Tribunal Alters Rules, Recommends New Lot

As its main project, Traffic Tribunal tackled the job of revising campus traffic regulations. The organization also was responsible for the recommendation of the new parking lot which was opened just west of Malloy Hall during the year.

Under the direction of Traffic Tribunal, the restricted parking area on campus was enlarged in order to accommodate additional faculty members and handicapped students. A number of appeals from violations were handled weekly by the group. Merwin Colburn served as chairman of Traffic Tribunal.

Largest Reveille Uses Seven Color Pictures

Adding eight pages, the yearbook staff produced a 360-page Reveille, the largest to date. Seven full-color pictures were employed to carry out the theme, which honored the centennial of Hays.

Breaking tradition, the staff abandoned the Reveille Ball and announced the Reveille Queen at halftime of the final basketball game of the season. Formerly chosen on the basis of beauty alone, the queen was selected with regard to beauty, poise, personality, activities, honors and talents.

One of 33 yearbooks throughout the nation to gain the honor, the 1966 Reveille garnered an All-American rating from Associated Collegiate Press—the highest award granted by the organization.

Participating in contemporary and pledge recitals, members of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music fraternity for women, furthered their interest in music. Other activities included a bake sale, a Halloween party with Phi Mu Alpha, a caroling party and a buffet dinner. Jeannette Evans was president of SAI. Joan Henry served as sponsor for the organization.

Phi Mu Alpha Backs Jazz Ensemble Show

Promoting music on campus, Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, sponsored the Jazz Ensemble in the spring. Proceeds from the ensemble were used to start a scholarship fund for the most outstanding freshman pledge. The group also participated in a caroling party for music faculty. John Burley was president. Robert Brown was sponsor.

Group Supplies Guides For FHS Muster Day

Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary for freshman women who have obtained a 2.5 grade index, helped with freshman orientation, provided guides for Muster Day and promoted scholastic achievement.

Senior members with a cumulative grade average of 2.5 were given special awards. Nancy Ann Ward acted as president. Jean Stouffer was sponsor.

13 Scholars Welcomed To Academic Honorary

Thirteen new members were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary fraternity. To qualify the men must have a 2.5 grade average for their first semester of college work. On Muster Day the group served as tour guides and hosts for the high school seniors. Wendell Nicholas was elected president. Michael Stewart served as sponsor.

Faculty Members Name 34 Seniors to Who's Who

Thirty-four Fort Hays State seniors were chosen for inclusion in the 1966-67 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Faculty members selected students with regard to academic achievement, qualities of leadership, participation in campus activities and potential contributions to society. A minimum grade average of 2.0 and senior class standing comprised the basic requirements for membership in the elite group.

Who's Who honors top seniors from 750 colleges and universities yearly. The number chosen from each is limited to not more than 10 per cent of the institution's graduating class. Darwin Brown was among those chosen but is not pictured.

WLO Seeks Link With Mortar Board

Seeking national standing, Women's Leadership Organization investigated possible affiliation with Mortar Board. Main projects of the group included ushering at Artists and Lectures programs, serving a breakfast at Homecoming and decorating the Christmas tree in Forsyth Library.

WLO helped Student National Education Assn. gather Christmas gifts to be sent to Larned State Hospital. For a money-making project the organization conducted a bazaar during the state teachers meeting.

Cooperating with the Field Service office and Seventh Cavalry, WLO helped select guides for Career Day. Members of the organization also co-hosted a Smarty Party for those students who had a first-semester grade average of 2.5 or better.

Late in the spring the group awarded a scholarship to a junior woman. Selection was made on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and personality. Nine WLO members were named to Who's Who and/or Phi Kappa Phi. One member earned an NDEA Fellowship. Avonne Rubottom was president. Sponsor was Alice McFarland.

Seventh Cavalry Sells Popcorn, Backs Directories

Contributing to the Endowment Assn., members of Seventh Cavalry, honorary men's leadership organization, sold popcorn at football and basketball games. The group was also responsible for financing and assembling campus directories. Attempting to spark interest in state election races, the organization helped with a get-out-to-vote campaign.

Seventh Cavalry aided with plans for Career Day and campaigned for the March of Dimes. As is customary in the Homecoming parade, the group provided horseback riders in uniforms similar to those of Gen. George Custer's Seventh Cavalry regiment, for which the organization is named. Palmer Meek was president. Sponsor was Standlee Dalton.

AKLs Have Top Float; Victory String to Four

For the fourth consecutive year, Alpha Kappa Lambda's float entry in the Homecoming parade nabbed sweepstakes honors. In keeping with the parade theme of "Great Books," the idea for the float, entitled "Bounty-ful Victory," was inspired by the title of the novel Mutiny on the Bounty. Adding spice to Alpha Kappa Lambda's Homecoming honors, the fraternity's candidate was Homecoming Queen.

AKLs served as sophomore class and Inter-Fraternity Council officers and as Student Council representatives. An AKL was Snowball King.

Among the fraternity's social activities were exchange functions with sororities, an informal Go-to-Hell Party and a spring formal. Alpha Kappa Lambda competed in all intramural sports.

Delta Sigma Phi Grabs Royalty Contest Honors

Garnering campus royalty honors, the Delta Sigma Phi candidate snared the crown of Snowball Queen, and a Delta Sig captured the title of Ugly Man on Campus. A member of the fraternity was elected president of Inter-Fraternity Council.

For service projects Delta Sigma Phi planned a Christmas party for children at Larned State Hospital and donated money to the institution.

Two informal dances, the Sphinx Ball and the Sailors' Ball, and the formal Carnation Ball highlighted the fraternity's social activities.

Participating in intramural sports competition, Delta Sig teams grabbed championships in football and golf and finished second in swimming.

New Phi Sig Wagon Makes Campus Scene

Sporting a new fraternity wagon, Phi Sigma Epsilon completed the project of renovating a 1923 Buick fire engine. The raffling of a stereo on campus constituted the group's money-making project.

Highlights on the agenda of social functions were the Alumni Homecoming party, formal and informal pledge parties, the White Tea Rose formal, a hayrack ride and get-togethers with sororities.

Phi Sigs participated in athletics and in various campus organizations. Competing in all intramural sports, the fraternity snared first place honors in tennis competition and second in golf.

Braving the chill of Homecoming, Phi Sigma Epsilon members and the Fort Hays State cheerleaders pile into the Phi Sig wagon and join in parade festivities. Renovation of the old fire engine was one of the fraternity's projects.

Prometheans Continue To Petition Sigma Chi

With word expected in 1967, Prometheans continued to petition for Sigma Chi affiliation.

Members helped build a fence around the Day Care Center, caroled at the hospitals at Christmas time and conducted an auto safety check.

Prometheans held class offices, All-Student Council membership and offices in various organizations. A Promethean was named Sweetheart King.

Social activities included an informal, a formal and exchange parties with the sororities.

Intramural Honors Go To Sigma Phi Epsilon

Active in intramural sports, Sigma Phi Epsilon snared first in swimming and bowling and garnered second in football and basketball.

Opportunities for socializing came with the informal Blue Mountain Blast and the formal Golden Heart Ball. Sig Eps raised money by sponsoring a spaghetti feed and sold tickets for the Lincoln Grade School carnival. Members of various campus organizations came from the group, and a Sig Ep was elected vice-president of Seventh Cavalry.

from 20 to 25 members. The house served as a planning center for social activities during the year.

Sig Taus Win Awards For Donation of Blood

Producing a large turnout of members, Sigma Tau Gamma men earned awards for donating blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile during the fall semester. In competition with other campus organizations, the fraternity won two trophies for having the highest percentage of members who donated blood.

Competing in intramural athletics, Sig Tau teams garnered first place in horse shoes singles and doubles and third place in football.

Sig Tau social activities included a pledge class informal and a formal in the spring. A member of the fraternity served on the Student Court.

Clean-up Projects Held By Tau Kappa Epsilon

As a community service, Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity conducted two clean-up campaigns.

On Parents Day members of the fraternity entertained their parents with a picnic. Other social activities of the group included the informal Roman Party, the Red Carnation Ball formal and a variety of get-togethers with women from the four sororities. Tau Kappa Epsilon candidates competed for honors in the various campus royalty contests.

Foreign Students Join Agnew Hall Managers

For the first time on campus, Agnew Hall had as resident managers international students from Tehran, Iran—Mr. and Mrs. Manouchehr Sharifi.

Agnew Hall coeds socialized with a hall formal in the spring and a pizza party for the residents at Christmas time. Hosting parents, friends, alumni and Hays residents, the women held open house on Parents Day and during Homecoming activities.

Residents sponsored candidates for royalty contests. The hall added to student aids by sending two students to the Wooster Dinner.

Mrs. Esther Biays was housemother for Agnew women. Mary Stapleton acted as hall president.

Converted from a men's to a women's residence hall this year, Agnew Hall furnishes housing for 180 coeds.

Oldest campus housing unit, Custer Hall is named for Mrs. George Armstrong Custer. The hall serves 200 women.

Remodeling of Custer Cramps Living Space

Remodeling of a section of Custer Hall during the first semester forced 35 residents to move to other rooms of the hall or to other housing units.

Informal get-together dances brought in men from McGrath and Wiest Halls for evenings of socializing. The Christmas Formal highlighted the year's social activities. Residents who attained the honor roll for the fall semester were guests at a special scholarship dinner sponsored by the hall.

Custer Hall coeds were named Leader Lasses of the month by the campus newspaper. Hall candidates also competed for other campus royalty spots.

Mrs. Ollie Harris was housemother for Custer Hall. Residents elected Julia Smith president.

On a quiet evening McMIndes Hall residents make use of one of five pajama lounges. During the year the women also relaxed and entertained friends in two downstairs parlors, a recreation room and a music listening room.

McGrath Hall Holds Open House Twice

Providing an opportunity for parents and Fort Hays State alumni to inspect the hall and visit with the residents, McGrath Hall sponsored open houses on both Homecoming Day and Parents Day.

Get-together dances with Agnew, Custer and McMindes Hall women afforded change-of-pace breaks. Candidates sponsored by the hall competed for honors in various campus royalty contests. The hall's candidate for Homecoming Queen was a finalist.

Boosting Wooster Fund proceeds, McGrath Hall contributed to the annual student-aids project.

Mrs. Beulah Lamb served as housemother for McGrath Hall. John Wheeler was president.

Larger and older of the two men's residence halls, McGrath Hall provides housing and meals for 174 students.

Providing a mixer to break the ice, Wiest Hall holds an all-dorm dance in the McMIndes Hall recreation room.

Wiest Men Spark Fun With All-Dorm Dance

To help residents of the various halls get acquainted, Wiest Hall sponsored an all-dorm dance. Residents and their dates were invited to participate in the fun. The dance was held in the McMIndes Hall recreation room to provide adequate space.

Wiest Hall sponsored candidates for honors in campus royalty contests. The hall contributed to student aid proceeds by buying tickets to send representatives to the Wooster Dinner.

Alumni and families of residents were guests at open houses on Parents Day and Homecoming Day.

Wiest Hall's housemother was Mrs. Marguerite Walters. Richard Joyce was elected president.

Constructed in 1961, Wiest Hall provides air-conditioned housing for 120 men. Newer of the two men's halls, Wiest

Hall was named to honor C. F. Wiest, who was a long-time professor of philosophy at the college.

Capitalizing on the relaxed pace of the weekend, two college men tackle the chore of doing their washing. During the year many students journeyed from their apartments to utilize conveniences of do-it-yourself laundries.

Apartments Are Home for Majority of Students

Whether for reasons of economy, freedom, privacy or marriage, nearly three-fourths of the student population lived in apartments both on and off campus, in trailer houses and in sleeping rooms.

College officials and Hays townspeople cooperated to provide sufficient living space for students. Several new privately owned housing units sprang up during the year. Providing living facilities for some of the married students, 84 Wooster Place apartments helped fulfill the need for housing. Several Lewis Field apartments, carry-overs from World War II, also provided low-cost housing accommodations for students.

Married students and single off-campus residents elected representatives to Student Council.

Taking time out from her studies, a coed enjoys the light entertainment afforded by evening television shows.

Bringing out the ironing board, an apartment resident takes part of an evening to press out her weekly washing.

With four units completed in 1961 and two in 1964, a total of 84 Wooster Place apartments serve married students.

Classes

In 1902, 34 students beginning classes at the Fort Hays Normal School were greeted by two faculty members and a campus of two classroom buildings. Today nearly 5,000 students attend classes on a spacious campus which has 11 classroom buildings, employs about 250 faculty members and offers almost a thousand different courses.

Authorities predict that such growth will continue. As future enrollments climb and then climb again, FHS personnel and students will face the challenge of meeting the lightning-fast demands of growth while maintaining high scholastic standards.

During the 1966 summer session, students drink in the atmosphere of a balmy summer day while completing assignments for classes. Many graduate students were included in the more than 2,000 students who enrolled for summer work.

Providing leadership for the seniors, class officers are Gary Vernon, president, and Betty Converse, vice-president. Chosen in 1966 spring elections, both candidates ran as members of the Democratic-Justice Party.

Supplying Fort Hays State's thousands of personnel requires genuine community support. Hays meets the test. The city's many businesses offer those connected with the college up-to-date goods and services.

Indicative of the cooperation which the community lends to Fort Hays State is the help it rendered toward making the first College Appreciation Days a success.

Mutual efforts of the community and its college have been a major factor in sparking Hays to prominence in Western Kansas. Continued cooperation will make possible the realization of tomorrow's potential.

Querry, Marilyn J. 152, 177, 207, 290

During the hectic period of examinations, fatigue overtakes a coed and the comfortable feeling of sleep ensues.

During the transfer of facilities to the new library, discarded materials prove interesting to youngsters.

And Finally . . .

In the heritage and traditions of Hays and Fort Hays State, the Reville holds a small but significant place. The book began with the publication of a 154-page, paperbound volume in 1914. The current volume's 360 pages, color photographs and modern typography contrast markedly with the appearance of the first book. Future physical, cultural and intellectual growth of FHS and the community will challenge successive yearbook staffs to further qualitative and quantitative improvement, for progress begets progress.

Many hands have helped produce the 1967 Reville. All persons who contributed to its publication have my thanks. Although it is impossible to mention everyone, it is inconceivable for me to close without giving special credit to Mrs. Katherine Rogers, adviser; Leon Maxson and his photography crew; Ralph Hormel, graphic artist; Bob Lowen, sports information director; Deanna Miller, associate editor; Ed Allen, business manager; Paul McClellan and Taylor Publishing Co.; Jack Ekey, who photographed the Reville Queen finalists; and Christopher Studio, which handled production of student and faculty portraits.

Having recorded another chapter in the story of Fort Hays State, the 1967 Reville will help recall the heritage that belongs to those connected with the college and community. It is my wish that the book will become an informative and valued possession of each owner.

Ron Fischli, editor

Ending three years of work on FHS yearbooks, Reville Editor Ron Fischli writes his closing remarks.
